War-Riddled Enemy
Divisions Depleted
As Allies Near Rome
Interpretation By
Kirke L. Simpson
(Wide World War Analyst)

Two weeks from its onset, the Allied attack in Italy is within sight of one of its goals—driving the enemy from Rome.

Anglo-American spearheads of the fifth army are at the ancient capital's thresholds. The beaten and mauled German armies defending must retreat or be smashed utterly. There are increasing intimations that, carried by Allied air power completely dominating Italian skies, the Nazi supply lines are breaking down.

Battle-riddled enemy divisions are depleted. Their casualties include nearly 15,000 prisoners in Allied hands added to the toll of dead and wounded. They are running short of artillery and armor by every sign and in mounting peril of major disaster.

That is the bitter truth seeping back to the bomb-shocked German home front despite adroit Nazi efforts to minimize the reverses in Italy. On the eve of more stupendous Russian and Allied blows from east and west, German armies in Italy, sustained by every advantage of terrain and interior communications, have been out-guessed, out-maneuvered and out-fought. That must add to the gloom in a Germany where nerves already keyed to a breaking strain cumulative military disasters in Russia, Italy and the Pacific, have been the U-boat campaign in the Atlantic, by the prolonged night-and-day Allied bombing campaign and by the maddening business of waiting, waiting for the main attacks to fall.

The German people are now being told from Berlin that reverses in Italy are attributable to the fact that reinforcements cannot be spared from the more dangerous continental fronts. It is a frank admission that the German high command holds no real hope of preventing early Allied occupation of Rome.

With that must go final disintegration of the Nazi satellite structure on the Balkan peninsula. Loss of the Italian boot and a Russian breakthrough in Romania into the Danubian plains must inevitably seal an all-Nazi revolt spread. The collapse of Bulgaria as a Nazi prop is already shadowed. There are intimations

FEDERAL EMPLOYEES CHARGE EFFORTS 'PROPAGANDA' HIT TO HALT PROBES

Third Money Bill Used As Medium For Verbal Slap At Pressure

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—The third major money bill reported in less than a week—$1,049,972,514 supply measure for independent offices—was used by the house appropriation committee today as the medium for a verbal slap at federal employees who "propagandize" congress for money.

Directing its criticism at the Children's Bureau and the Office of Education, the committee referred to a "considerable amount of correspondence" in connection with the Children's Bureau and to the "particularly aggressive" attitude of the Office of Education with respect to funds.

The time of government employees should not be utilized in propagandizing congress in behalf of appropriations from which they might expect to benefit, the committee said, nor should the employees be used in having members of congress "circulated" in behalf of appropriations.

Consideration of the bill will start Monday in the house, which this week disposed quickly of appropriation measures for the District of Columbia government and 17 miscellaneous home-front war agencies.

More than half the money in the bill was allotted to the Federal Security Agency, which receives $629,224,185, a reduction of $38,621,115 from budget estimates. For the labor department the bill carried $67,950,350, a $2,164,850 cut from the budget; for the Employees Compensation Commission, $15,410,000, the amount requested; for the National Labor Relations Board, $3,523,450, a cut of $625,550; for the National Mediation Board, $607,000, a $46,500 reduction; for the Railroad Retirement Board, the $311,316,000 requested in the budget, and for the War Manpower Commission, $76,941,829, a cut of $8,066,371.

The committee eliminated entirely a request for $2,465,000 for the War Manpower Commission's program of recruiting, locating and importing Carran said Senator Downey, Democrat, California, would present amendment when the debt bill comes up, probably Monday.

George, a power in tax matters, did not mind seeing the tax reduced "what—15 per cent would be right," he observed—but he did rather have such a controversy-matter come up in connection with some legislation of less pressing importance. He pointed out that it is not to raise the debt limit quickly but of the approaching fifth war drive.

The treasury opposes the cut on ground the new levy hasn't been operation long enough to furnish aid on the revenue, and also because it considers it questionable to use to reduce any tax in war time.

Club proprietors say their business is dwindling, the government is losing revenue, and performance to be laid off.

Senator George said there was no

PATTERSON ENDS VISIT TO JACKSON

JACKSON, Miss., May 27.—(AP)—Under-Secretary of War Robert Patterson today completed a thirty-hour visit to the 94th infantry and other units stationed at Camp McCain, witnessing a series of demonstrations covering the entire scope of activity currently scheduled at the camp, public relations officials revealed today.

He was accompanied by Maj. Gen. John P. Lucas, deputy commander of the Fourth army, San Antonio, Texas; Maj. Gen. Frank W. Milburn, XXI corps commander; Maj. Gen. Richard C. Moore, office of the combined chiefs of staff and Brig. Gen. Robert W. Critchlow, of army ground forces, headquarters, Washington, the officials said.

Actual warfare conditions were simulated in maneuvers presented especially for Patterson, with infantry movement being commanded by Col. Earle Johnson, of the 302nd infantry regiment, Lt. Col. Sam L. Morrow, of the 201st field artillery command, the field unit, after a special reveille had brought the under-secretary to his quarters at an early hour, the PRO office said.

F. D. R. GARNERS MORE DELEGATES

Connecticut And Utah Democrats Join Fourth Term Parade

(By Associated Press)

Connecticut and Utah Democrats joined the parade of fourth term supporters yesterday to elevate President Roosevelt's convention delegate strength to a record-breaking total of 506 as North Carolina party members chose nominees for senator, governor, and other officials.

The Connecticut Democratic convention closed with the adoption of resolutions favoring a fourth term and with instructions to the state's delegation to cast its 18 votes for the president's re-nomination. Delegates chosen included Senator Maloney, Democrat, Connecticut, Homer Cummings, former attorney general, and former Governor Wilbur Cross and Robert Huxley.

In Utah, the Democrats heard Senator Elbert D. Thomas, who is seeking re-nomination, call for the president's reelection to provide an experienced American at the peace table. Thomas predicted that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York would be the Republican nominee.

Party leaders said there was no doubt that Utah's 10 votes would be cast for the president's re-nomination, although the delegation usually goes uncommitted.

Apathy marked the voting in North Carolina's primary, where former Gov. Clyde R. Hoxey and Rep. Cameron Morrison, former governor and senator, appeared to be the chief contenders in a five-way contest for the Democratic nomination to succeed Sen. Robert R. Reynolds. Reynolds is quitting the Senate when his present term ends.

The governor's race there found R. Gregg Cherry, Gastonia lawyer, matched with Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, Winston-Salem educator, in the fight for the nomination, with Olla Ray Boyd of Pinefort, who campaigned with a hillbilly band, given a remote possibility to figure in the final tallies.

In Washington a storm broke within the membership of the Senate's investigating committee as a result of a contention by Chairman Truman, Democrat, Missouri, at New Haven, Conn., Friday night that Republicans were attempting to make political use of administration mistakes uncovered by the Democrats themselves through the committee.

Ball told a reporter that so far as he knew Truman himself appeared to have provided the first instance in which any attempt was made to "turn the work of the committee and its findings to partisan advantage."

"The implication that the Democrats on the committee did all the investigation is, of course, wrong on its face," the Minnesota senator declared. "Likewise, his assertion that the administration has always cooperated 100 per cent with the committee is not correct."

"On the whole, we have had good cooperation from the armed forces, but there have been several instances where the administration has attempted to call off the committee when it appeared that politically damaging evidence or findings were to be made public."

Ball said he thought Truman had

FIGHTING OCCURS IN TSUNGYANG SECTOR

CHUNGKING, May 27.—(AP)—Fighting has broken out in the neighborhood of Tsungyang, about 75 miles south of Hankow, in southern Hupeh Province, a Chinese communiqué reported today, and the possibility was being discussed here of a vast pincer against the Chinese rear as a likely Japanese move in central China, aimed eventually at this wartime capital.

Chinese dispatches claimed the Japanese drive in Honan Province, which is north of Hupeh, has been stalled, and that a Chinese counteroffensive was making progress, but it was believed possible here that the invaders were adjusting their positions and bringing up reinforcements for renewed assault.

The Chinese communiqué reported "further progress" in the "Loyang sector," particularly east of Lushih, but the fall of the ancient walled city of Loyang itself, claimed by the Japanese, has been conceded as a probability by Chinese here. In the vicinity of Loyang, planes of the Chinese-American wing of the 14th air force strafed enemy troops yesterday, a communiqué of Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters said, killing many enemy troops and destroying at least 30 trucks.

A Japanese communiqué broadcast by Tokyo claimed the Chinese left 4,386 dead, that 6,230 were captured and much material taken in the seizure of Loyang.

6,000 Planes Attack Nazi Traffic System

One Of Greatest Coordinated Blows Ever Struck Roars On Past Midnight At Hitler's Transportation Lines

By Austin Bealmear

LONDON, Sunday, May 28.—(AP)—The great allied pre-invasion aerial offensive, which sent nearly 6,000 bombers and fighters thundering against Hitler's transportation system yesterday, roared on past midnight with alerts sounding in Berlin and the English shores shaking from violent explosions along the French coast.

The Folkstone area, across the narrow Strait of Dover from France, got one of its greatest joltings of the war—houses shaking, furniture bouncing and doors banging again and again from the vibrations of the cross-channel explosions. Flares and bomb explosion flashes lit the channel sky.

The attack yesterday was one of the greatest coordinated blows ever struck from bases in England and Italy as European continent.

At least 12 important railroad junctions, five airfields, two aircraft repair factories and several railroad bridges were among the targets blasted by well over 6,000 tons of exploding steel.

Some of the attackers encountered fighter opposition while others made their raids unmolested, the United States Eighth air force said in announcing that 24 bombers and seven fighters were missing. In addition 11 United States medium bombers were lost in other phases of the widespread assault.

At least 48 Nazi planes were shot down in the main attacks by the fleet flying from Britain. Bomber gunners claimed 13 and escorting fighters 35. A possibility that the Mediterranean air force was striking into the

SHIP'S CAPTAIN KILLED BY CREW

Slain Aboard Vessel After Being Confined By Naval Orders

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—The Navy reported today that Karl J. Walsh, captain of the S. S. Thomas J. Walsh, was shot to death April 19 in an exchange of shots with members of the ship's crew who held him aboard the vessel.

The shooting occurred in a South Pacific port under naval jurisdiction where the Navy said it had become necessary to confine Larsen to his quarters aboard ship. Larsen was from New York City.

The Navy said that the merchant vessel had returned to a West Coast port and that a thorough investigation of the shooting is being made. The Navy reported the death of Larsen in this statement:

"Karl J. Larsen, master of the S. S. Thomas J. Walsh, was fatally wounded in an exchange of shots with members of his vessel's naval armed guard crew on April 19, 1944.

"Testimony of naval and merchant marine personnel aboard the ship indicates that, while the S. S. Thomas J. Walsh was anchored in a South Pacific port, it became necessary to

R. A. F. Coastal Command Cripples Enemy's Blockade-Running Feedline

LONDON, May 27.—(AP)—The R. A. F. coastal command's torpedo and rocket bombers have crippled the enemy's blockade-running feedline in the Bay of Biscay to German war plants, while British Liberators and Wellingtons from Italy again have strewn the lower Danube military waterway with mines to throttle another source of supply, it was announced today.

During the last six months the coastal command planes have attacked 50 enemy vessels and a total of 67 have been sunk or damaged, the R. A. F. announced. Assessments on an additional 25 are still to be made.

The attacks were made by planes equipped with bombs, torpedoes and new rocket projectiles. No figures indicating the success of the rockets alone are available.

The coastal command has found torpedoes and rockets complementary weapons, the rockets having sunk medium-sized merchantmen while the torpedoes have proved useful in attacking sizable vessels but are apt to pass under smaller ships.

Only Two And Half Miles From Strategic Casilina Highway

By Edward Kennedy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, May 27.—(AP)—American armored forces fought their way into the town of Artana, only 2 1/2 miles from the strategic Casilina highway, and tonight began pouring a heavy shellfire into this main escape route for eight German divisions comprising the bulk of the Nazi forces below Rome.

While American tanks and field guns kept the enemy retreat line under fire, other American Fifth army forces in their closest drive toward Rome threatened the town of Velletri, 18 miles from the outskirts of the capital. Velletri already was shrouded in smoke from blazing fires.

The Germans, apparently alarmed over the plight of their large forces to the southeast, threw reserves into the fight to keep the Americans from blocking the all-important Via Casilina-highway 6—Associated Press Correspondent Daniel de Luce wrote from the front tonight.

In the town of Artana American doughboys were waging a house-to-house battle with the Germans, De Luce reported. Artana, itself an important road junction behind the retreating Nazi Tenth army, was reached after a spectacular drive of nine miles in one day.

The Allied armies advanced steadily along the entire 80-mile active front today.

MORE TIRES FOR JUNE APPROVED

McKenzie Reports 53 Per Cent Increase In Quota For District

A 53 per cent increase in the passenger car tire quota for the Fifth District for the month of June has been approved by the OPA. Congressman Charles E. McKenzie told The World from Washington yesterday.

Mr. McKenzie said the tires would be all Grade I and would be given holders of B and C gasoline rationing. He added that it is probable that A card holders would become eligible for Grade I tires next fall as the production of synthetic tires mounts.

Mr. McKenzie said the increase in the tire quotas for the districts in the district was approved by Max McCullough, regional OPA director at Dallas, and confirmed by OPA officials in Washington.

Following Mr. McKenzie's efforts to have the district's tire quotas increased early this year, an increase of 47 per cent for April over March was obtained, and in May an increase of 35 1/2 per cent over April was approved.

A total of 2,955 tires was available for April, 4,016 for May and now the quota for June has been set at 6,140 tires, the congressman announced.

Mr. McKenzie urged that every B and C card holder whose present tires are worn out make application for new Grade I tires immediately because the quotas are based on the number of applications received by the various rationing boards.

FLOOD SUFFERERS TO GET ASSISTANCE

Residents of rural areas who have suffered losses through the recent high water will be assisted by the United States Department of Agriculture, who will rehabilitate families who were forced to move, Congressman C. E. McKenzie announced from Washington yesterday.

Residents of Concordia, Catiboula, Morehouse, Union and Ouachita parishes were hit hardest, he said, but families in other parishes who suffered losses also will be assisted. Assistance will come from an emergency fund of $12,000,000 recently voted by congress to aid in flood rehabilitation.

Mr. McKenzie said that the FSA will supervise distribution of seed and food for workweek to those whose crops were destroyed and stock feed ruined.

Meanwhile, the Ouachita river continued falling along its entire length, according to C. A. Proffit, chairman of the public information committee of the Red Cross. At Monroe, the river fell 2 foot as of the 8 a. m. reading Saturday. Reports from Calumet, Felsenthal, Sterlington, Riverton, Jonesville and Harrisonburg also reported slight fall, Mr. Proffit said.

Yankee Invasion Force Up Against Fierce Jap Opposition

AMERICANS HAMMER WAY TOWARD THREE AIRPORTS

By Murlin Spencer

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Sunday, May 28.—(AP)—Veteran American infantrymen forced a landing at Biak Island in the Schoutens yesterday against strong Japanese resistance and battled their way toward airfields that will base Allied planes for assaults on the Philippines.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, announcing the invasion today, said the hardened Yanks stormed the southeastern beaches of the island after dawn and by nightfall had established a strong beachhead a mile east and a mile west of Bosnik.

The jungle-clad veterans of other New Guinea amphibious operations rushed up the sandy, gently sloping beaches less than 500 miles from the southern Philippines after an intensive bombardment by American and Australian cruisers.

The landing itself was one of the most heavily opposed of any made by MacArthur's forces in the Southwest Pacific theater.

The Japanese, lodged in strong positions overlooking the beaches, opened up with heavy mortar and automatic weapons fire. MacArthur's communiqué said, however, that American losses in the operation were light.

Simultaneously with the landing enemy shore batteries carried on a long-range duel with the American and Australian cruisers and other naval craft. A headquarters spokesman said minor damage and casualties were suffered by the naval forces.

The last report at headquarters told of the American infantrymen hammering ahead toward the Mokmer, Sorido and Borokoe airdromes seven miles away. But they were running into strong enemy resistance.

Announcing the landing on Biak, MacArthur said: "Capture of this stronghold will give us command and domination of Dutch New Guinea except for isolated enemy positions. For strategic purposes, this marks the practical end of the New Guinea campaign."

Then in a special statement the general added: "The results of the offensive which was launched in this theater eleven months ago have more than fulfilled my most optimistic hopes and expectations. The operations have appreciably advanced us on our way. I am especially thankful for our light losses. Nothing could more clearly indicate the mercy of a guiding Providence."

Possession of Biak's three airfields will give MacArthur's fliers a base for blasting everything the enemy has between New Guinea and the Philippines.

UNION WARNED OF 'PUBLIC OPINION'

DETROIT, May 27.—(AP)—Labor disputes in Detroit brought voluntary bread rationing for many families today and a union leader's sternly-worded warning to war plant strikers of possible consequences of "public opinion."

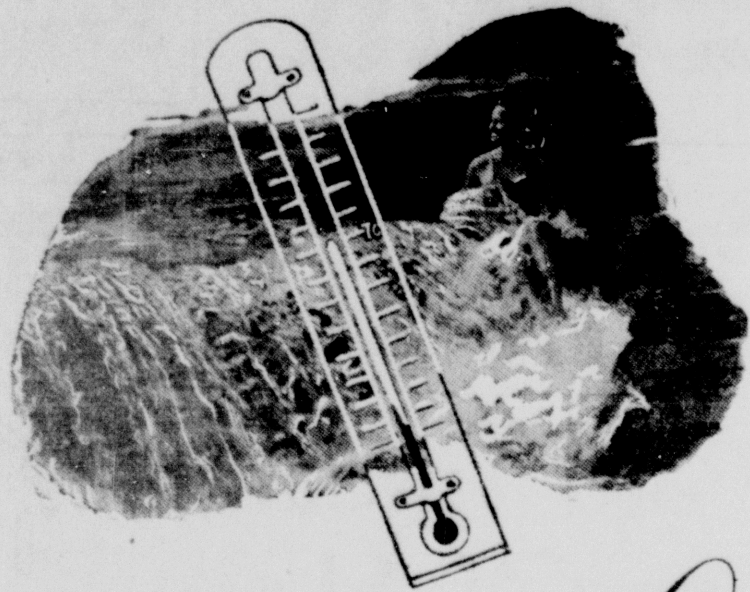

"Public opinion," said President R. J. Thomas of the big C. I. O. United Auto Workers Union, "has become inflamed against our union."

The U. A. W.-C. I. O. chief, who heads one of the nation's most powerful labor unions, made the remark in an extraordinary statement to the general membership in connection with a second walkout at the Highland Park war plant of Chrysler Corporation.

The Auto Workers Union, Thomas warned, "cannot survive if the nation and our soldiers believe that we are obstructing the war effort."

Dwindling bread supplies on the shelves of merchants meanwhile forced many to ration their sales as a result of the three-day strike of 1,000 bakery drivers. Other merchants' shelves were bare of bread.

The War Labor Board at Washington today directed the strikers, members of Bakery Drivers Local 51 of the A. F. L. Teamsters Union, to return to their jobs immediately. WLB said no action would be taken on a wage adjustment request until deliveries were resumed.

POLIO NEED NOT ALARM PUBLIC

Dr. Mengis Describes Disease To Give Information

By Dr. C. L. Mengis

One day last week, there must have been 15 different inquiries about a supposed case of polio in a colored child in the north end of town. The physician treating the case was contacted and stated there had been no suspicion of polio. If there was that much frantic fear over one suspected case in a community of 45,000 people, some further information regarding this disease should be disseminated and if possible, allay some of the unnecessary anxiety that would precede a possible invasion this summer and fall.

The causative factor—the germ that produces the disease—is termed a virus, small to be seen under the most powerful microscope, and will pass through the finest of filters. Viruses are complete parasites, that is, they do not multiply outside the living body cells of their host—they can not move nor can they reproduce by themselves, and must depend for their motion from one place to another on the activities of the person or things infected, yet they can continue to live for long periods outside of the body in which they grew and multiplied, and the polio virus is more resistant to many things that destroy most bacteria. It can withstand drying—can be subject, without killing, to many antiseptics and germicides—it may be kept far below freezing and yet retain its vitality, but it can not be grown outside of living cells as can most bacteria. The polio virus is one of the smallest and is limited to living cells of a very few animals. Man is the best host and monkeys come next, and other animals are not routinely susceptible which limits study of the disease.

The mode of transmission is not definitely known—perhaps in droplets from nose and throat of an actual carrier of the disease, or possibly from food or milk contaminated by human excreta, as the virus has been found quite frequently in bowel discharges that have been known to pollute streams. It is also quite possible that some insect is the vector transmitting the disease as trapped flies in epidemic areas have been shown to carry the disease and mosquitoes have been infected in the laboratory.

The incubation period, or the time elapsing from the entrance of the virus, to the development of symptoms, varies from four days to two weeks. Many children are immune to polio, and even in epidemics only one child out of several hundred exposed, contract the disease as so recognized—most authorities agree that this is probably due to an infection of a non-paralytic or even an abortive type of the disease, that is usually diagnosed as some other ailment.

As in most communicable diseases, the present trend in public health is recognizing the healthy person as a carrier—this person may or may not have had an attack of the disease as a high levee of immunity may have resisted the invasion but a carrier developed, that became a constant menace to all susceptible contacts.

Now, let us see what can be done to prevent polio infection during an incidence of cases or an epidemic. Endemically, the usual number of sporadic cases in a community of this size, four or five up to 10 or 15 cases, might be expected and should not occasion any great alarm. However, when the approach becomes an epidemic, more than the usual annual occurrence, there are a few rules that could be followed. Remember, there is not, as yet, any specific method of preventing polio, as is for

STUDIED RADIO

Billy Joe Dean, 16, radio student, is a native of Monroe. He attended Barkdull Faulk School and later was a student at Neville High for two years. He entered armed service April 1943. He took basic training at San Diego and then was assigned to the University of Colorado where for eight months he studied radio. He is now in the southwest Pacific. His mother is Mrs. Gertrude Dean, 3806 Lee avenue, Monroe.

diphtheria, small pox, or typhoid, and all prevention is based upon avoidance of exposure, and as many carriers unknowingly spread the infection, that is pretty hard to do. Most public health authorities agree that the closure of schools has not lowered the case incidence—even now, it is recognized that quarantine of contacts is of doubtful value.

The patient should be isolated for 21 days, and all children under 12 years of age be kept at home, as far as possible and not allowed to attend picture shows or come in contact with numbers of other children where new contacts might be made. We recommend a continued absence from all swimming pools and by all means refrain from bathing in streams or pools. The house should be well screened and flies and mosquitoes reduced to a minimum—all food should be well prepared and free from any contamination by human hands.

Infants under one year very rarely become infected—it is less common in adults and the older age groups. Polio is not a disease of the slums, the malnourished or the underprivileged—it often picks the healthy and active for its victim. Fortunately, the disease in its paralytic form is not so common, and of these cases many recover completely without any crippling condition. We have here in Louisiana, a polio center, attached to the Charity Hospital in New Orleans, maintained by the state board of health and the department of institutions, and staffed by very able orthopedic surgeons, and nurses trained in the Kenny method of muscular retraining, and physiotherapists who daily aid in the use of affected limbs.

This is the only institution in Louisiana that admits acute or sub acute polio, and it is in this stage of the disease that most benefit can be gained—from the onset of the illness up to two or three months duration. Ambulance service has been provided by the department of institutions for the transfer of these patients from any place in Louisiana to the New Orleans polio center. Contact your parish health unit director who should either contact the superintendent of your nearest state hospital, or he can telephone the director of the crippled children division of the Louisiana state board of health, Dr. Branch Aymond, whose telephone number is Canal 3201, and arrangements for transportation will be completed.

MARTIN ASKING FOR REELECTION

Announces His Candidacy For Public Service Commissioner

BATON ROUGE, La., May 27.—(AP)—Wade O. Martin Sr., former sheriff of St. Martin parish for 21 years and member of the Louisiana public service commission for the last 11 years, today for reelection to the commission from the Second district.

Martin, who was elected in 1932 and reelected without opposition in 1935, is president of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, and has served as chairman of the Louisiana Flood Control and Water Conservation Commission. In his announcement Martin said that "even though the commission during my incumbency has always been under-staffed and under-financed, it has accomplished many things in which I take justifiable pride.

"The Louisiana public service commission is without question one of the most powerful and important of all state agencies, and under its constitutional grant of power, as supplemented by special acts of the legislature, it has jurisdiction over the rates and services of a classes of for-hire carriers except those of privately owned and operated public utilities within the state outside of the city of New Orleans."

Martin's son, Wade Jr., is the secretary of state, elected on a Regular ticket.

In his statement today the commissioner listed the many railroad utilities and carriers over which the commission has jurisdiction, and declared that with only 11 employees one of the smallest annual appropriations of any such commission in the country, the state body since his incumbency had brought about:

"Reductions in the rates of electric, gas, water and telephone utilities, the extent of approximately $4,500,000 per year on a non-cumulative basis," or a total of more than $28,000,000.

Reductions in the period, he said, included more than $11,000,000 in telephone rates, and in the same period privately owned electric, gas and telephone companies within the state have spent more than $40,000,000 providing more adequate and dependable service.

One company, he said, has proposed to add to its system more than 1,000 miles of rural electric lines, at a cost of over $1,000,000, serve approximately 5,000 additional rural consumers in 32 parishes.

Martin cited other commission activities in rail rate cases, including the prevention of a hike of approximately 34 per cent on straw shipments northward, its fight against new pipe lines taking gas out of the state and its opposition to the Lawrence waterway project "which would prove so detrimental to the interests of our Louisiana ports."

"During the post-war period of adjustment," he said, "the regulatory commissions such as the Louisiana public service commission will unquestionably free some of the toughest and most intricate problems faced in the history of public utility regulation, and I feel that my past experience, gained in dealing with such problems during the depression period as well as during the emergency, will better equip me to protect the public interest in matters that could possibly be expected of a man not having had the benefit of these experiences."

THINK ROOSEVELT WANTS TO SEE WA

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's expressed desire to get a closer look at the world coupled with a possibility that United Nations leaders might start joint conversations soon on a post-war security organization, was believed tonight to underlie his casual remark that he expects to see Prime Minister Churchill soon.

There are several factors that might impel the president to make a trip abroad in the not too distant future. Assuming that the battle for Europe will get under way sometime in spring or summer, many informed persons familiar with the president's deep preoccupation with military affairs, especially at this critical stage, believe he would like to get near the scene of action.

Only a week ago when he was talking with reporters about progress on the Italian front he emphasized the difficulty of sizing up a military campaign several thousand miles away.

Another factor, although one is viewed here as of secondary consideration, is the forthcoming visit to London of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, the French leader, for conference with Churchill.

Beyond these is another consideration which diplomats regard as growing importance. That is the possibility of starting work jointly among the leading United Nations on creation of a post-war set-up.

Mr. Roosevelt told reporters yesterday that a first rough draft ready has been drawn up, based on American ideas and on the change of opinions with British, Chinese and Russian officials in the recent conferences at Casablanca, Cairo and Teheran. This draft, however, is purely American affair.

In diplomatic quarters it is learned that no continuing conversations have yet been undertaken among the Allies on the organization of world security. Some authorities think such a project could best be promoted by the big three or four leaders in a personal meeting.

Says War Justifies Temporary Use

ATON ROUGE, La., May 27.—(P)—A preliminary report made public to- day by the Louisiana State University mission on post-war planning, ex- pressed opposition to what it termed "education by contract" as a peace- time measure but concluded that "in time of national emergency such measures can properly be justified."

The commission was appointed to study the study by C. B. Hodges, president of L. S. U., last June. It stated that there was a wartime need for contracts with the federal government such as have been made in the past year, but recom- mended that such a system be dis- continued in peacetime "as a formal contract to the principles of a demo- cratic society."

By its very nature, contractual education denies the integrity of the institution and imposes restrictions which will inevitably become intoler- able to the educational institutions of a democratic society," the report said.

Contracts are contracts, and imply that the universities will deliver so much education to so many people as satisfaction of the party which makes the contract. The measure of validity of education is thereby taken from the university and vested in some outside body which is there- upon empowered to prescribe the edu- cational content and methods of the institution. Contractual education, in peacetime economy, would be a complete denial of the internal integ- rity of which higher education is composed.

The commission, declaring that edu- cation cannot hope to remain un- changed in a world which is changing social, political, and economic out- lined three fields of ad- vancement: Provision for men and women of the armed services who are educational facilities; modifi- cation of the content of curricula and improvement of instruc- tion and more extramural instruc- tion for adults.

After the war, the report predicted, universities will have higher than normal enrollments including veterans and other educational and other back- grounds and needs.

The commission, headed by Cecil Mann of the psychology faculty, stated that immediate planning is necessary to cope with the problems of meeting the demands foreseen by members of the commission. Homer L. Garrett, education; Har- ris Duggett, law; Arthur R. Chopin, engineering; and Fred F. Pillet, en- gineering.

There appears to be little doubt that financial assistance will be granted to many veterans to enable them to continue their education," the commission said. "Many will require time programs to enable them to enter upon gainful occupations. Those, professionally trained before war, will need refresher courses that they may return without handicap to civilian occupation."

Not only will there be many stu- dents, but they will be different from regular undergraduates in ex- perience, in educational background, in maturity," it stated. "Their dif- ferences in experience and back- ground will throw new and additional demands upon the guidance facilities of a university. Their maturity will make them intolerant of weak instruction."

In addition, demands and bur- dens upon universities if they are to suc- cessfully strengthen their faculties, attract and retain learned teachers, develop methods of test- ing to determine more surely ions of people daily practice prayer, new thought and spiritual exercises. For many people of good will have been praying for the overthrow of Hitler, to and what they stand for, as the answer been so long de- layed? Why do so many other prayers go unanswered? Why does a cruel fate often befall us in spite of our prayers?

Why MAN'S PRAYERS
DID NOT STOP HITLER

Years ago, in Forbidden Ti- bet, the highest mountains in the world, a young Englishman named J. Dingle found the answers to his questions. A great mystic came to him. A great change came to him. He realized the strange power that Knowledge gives.

Power, he says, can transform anyone. Questions, what- ever they are, can be answered. The power of health, death, poverty, sorrow, can be solved. In his own case, he was brought to splendid health. He acquired the power, as well as world- wide recognition. Thirty years ago he was sick as a man could be. Once his coffin was being lowered into the ground, he was brought back to life. He was almost blind, his bones were broken, his life was in danger and had made a huge wreck of him, physically and mentally. He was about to be sent back to his native land, when a strange mes- sage came. They are waiting for you. He wants to tell the whole world what he learned there, under the guidance of the greatest mystic he ever encountered during his 21 years in the Far East. He wants to share the greater the superior students and provide them with opportunities suited to their abilities, and, third, devote itself to the development of free citizens—"men and women, who, because of their learning experiences are free from intellectual bondage," the report said.

The commission cited the action of the L. S. U. administrative council in April, 1943, which disapproved the granting of "blanket" academic credit to men and women of the armed services, but which endorsed in principle the program of the U. S. armed forces institute for continuing education in the armed services for granting un- dergraduate credit to returning ser- vice men and women on the basis of educational achievement.

A changing economy will probably result in demands for new courses, modifications, and for new emphasis in curricula, stresses of war having already called attention to some of the weaknesses of existing educa- tional processes, the report stated.

More important, however, is the need for flexibility with respect to curricula, it was declared. The student, for example, should be per- mitted to select courses outside his college; honor courses and honor de- grees should be developed, and in- dependent work on the part of the ablest students should be encouraged.

The commission recommended also development of closer relations be- tween the universities and the high schools from which they draw their students and, for L. S. U., made a specific recommendation looking to the development of its inter-Ameri- can program.

Ushering in the commencement se- sion in the Twin Cities, the Louisi- ana Training Institute's closing exer- cises for the school year were held Friday, 7:30 p. m.

Sixteen boys were graduated from the grammar grades and seven com- pleted high school studies. The program was initiated by the professional, "Hail Happy Day," by Verdi, played by the school band, after which invocation was by Rev. Father Manfred Joachim. The next number was "March Militaire Escort" by Bennett, executed by the band.

"Foresight" was the theme of the valedictory which was well rendered by Thurl Kidd. Then came a marim- ba solo from a selection in the "Tales of Hoffman," rendered by Leonard Oliver.

Rev. L. T. Hastings, pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the ben- ediction of the occasion, after which the band played "Project for Today" by Bennett.

Assistant Supt. L. M. Lee then pre- sented the grammar school graduates with diplomas, which was followed by Supt. Paul Armstrong, who gave out high school diplomas. Chaplain Robert Bell, of the insti- tute, pronounced the benediction.

'SHIF'LESS SKONK'
GETS NAZIS' GOAT

WATERTOWN, Mass., May 27.—(P)—German fighter pilots didn't like the painting of Hitler's head on a skunk's body on the Flying Fortress "Shifless Skonk," but they couldn't do much about it.

Sgt. George W. Agiasottelis, turret gunner on the Fortress, said the Nazi fighters swarmed at them like hornets every time "Skonk" raided German territory. It was a rocket shot from the ground that finally "nailed us hard," the sergeant said. "We were headed for Berlin with a bomb load, my 19th mission, when a ground-fired rocket blew one engine out of the plane. Still we knocked down eight German planes. And we unloaded on Berlin before we finally headed home."

Agiasottelis is home on leave, with a record of 26 missions over Europe, including six to Berlin.

The Chamber of Commerce employ- ers' workite-employment survey was initiated at a meeting held Fri- day night in the ballroom of Hotel Virginia. In the absence of Henry Biedenharn, general chairman of the steering committee in charge of the survey, George D. Holland presided.

A movie prepared by the National Committee of Economic Development stresses the importance of every employer in the United States cooperat- ing in a plan to provide post-war jobs for servicemen and war workers.

Dr. R. W. French, director of the bureau of business research at L. S. U., presented specific plans for mak- ing a survey of the 1,326 employers in Ouachita parish. And the attention of every employer, small or large, was asked for this survey as well as wholehearted support and cooperation in supplying information to the nine questions which will be asked them.

The employers will be contacted within a few days by a volunteer group of 182 local businessmen. The overall purpose of this employers' survey is to determine the number of jobs which will be available in this parish in the first post-war year.

The questionnaire requests informa- tion as to the total employees hired by each employer in 1940 and in 1943 and an estimate of the number which will be employed in the year im- mediately following the end of the war.

The questionnaire also asks the number of jobs which will be cre- ated through construction and reno- vations of all industries and places of business.

The United States Civil Service commission announces open competi- tive examination for positions of training specialist, at salaries ranging from $3,163 to $6,228, including over- time pay, for employment in various federal agencies of the states of Louisiana and Mississippi. Ratings will be based on information shown in the applications, subject to corroboration.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Man- ager, Branch Regional Office, Tenth Civil Service Region, Customhouse, New Orleans, 16, Louisiana, or from the Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, at any first- or second-class post office in the states of Louisiana and Mississippi, except the New Orleans, La., post office.

GOOD RECORDS SET BY SCHOOL

Neville And City System Show Up Well Past Year

Remarkably fine showings were made by Neville High School pupils and graduates as reviewed in a report by Principal Paul Neal given at the meeting of the City Teachers' Association last Friday.

His report showed that from last year's class of graduates, 36 per cent entered college, which was smaller than usual because of wartime conditions. Of this number, 12 per cent made A grades; 31 per cent made B grades; 38 per cent made C grades; 14 per cent made D grades; and 5 per cent made F grades.

Some of the honors won were as follows: Sally Foster won first place and Virginia Butler, second place, in the Kiwanis Club's contest, "Keep America American."

In the bookkeeping contest, with 39 states represented, Vette Bernhardt won second place.

The Home Economics Club supported the drive to collect fats for the war and succeeded in obtaining 670 pounds and also bought a $50 war bond. Also a school garden was raised and the Junior Red Cross given support.

Two graduates now in Tech, Mary Jane Dickard and Jimmy Hult, were selected for "Who's Who in American Colleges."

Mr. Neal also stated that Neville and the other city schools have now in armed service a total of 500 men and women.

Bill Hardin, of Tech, was named by the faculty to attend the Good Citizenship meeting at Baton Rouge. He is also a national honor society member.

Joy Bernhardt at Tech was named as one of the 13 outstanding students here and a bouquet in their honor was given recently.

Other principals of city schools also rendered reports at the meeting and election of officers resulted as follows: Miss Julia Wossman, principal of Barkdull Faulk School, president; Mrs. W. R. Hammond, vice-president; Miss Francis Flanders, secretary-treasurer. The election followed the presentation of names by the nominating committee, of which Mrs. A. W. Robinson was chairman.

Miss Marjorie Oliver, supervisor in the grades, gave a report of the past year's achievements and various principals of schools likewise gave reports.

Miss Flanders, librarian, reported that for the 1943-44 session, 10,900 books were circulated which averaged 27.8 books per pupil.

The librarian stated that two pep rallies were sponsored in which the entire school participated and from which a sum of $208.31 was netted. From this fund, 110 books were added to the library.

The library has sponsored a library club of 100 members. Monthly meetings consisting of a program followed by a social hour have been held. A swimming party and picnic at Fort Belvoir were also activities.

Miss Flanders will be a member of the faculty of the Louisiana State Normal College for the summer session. She will teach classes in Library Science.

PATTON ANXIOUS TO REDEEM SELF

Daring, Spectacular Performance Expected During Invasion

(By the Washington Staff of the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 27.—(AP)—Watch for a spectacular performance by Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., in the battle for Europe.

Army friends report the general is determined to erase by feats of daring leadership the reputation he got in the "slapping incident" and more recently in his speech saying that the United States, Britain and Russia were destined to rule the world.

Official Washington was upset by the last occurrence and the general has not spoken out since. The senate military affairs committee failure to approve his permanent promotion this week is evidence that what he has said and done still stands against him.

Among ranking officers who have served with him, Patton is more admired for his reckless, driving leadership than anything else. It was for savage, fearless soldiery that General Eisenhower shielded him in Sicily after the slapping affair and later took him to Britain. It is said that he has an important invasion assignment and friends are convinced that he will be in the forefront of the fight.

Invasion craft—it's "full speed ahead" for invasion craft production until well into the fall, insiders now forecast. Chances are the overriding priority which was ordered in November to shove landing craft ahead of everything else will be continued at least into August.

You can't have too many of 'em, it's reasoned, for after they land troops they'll come back later with supplies. This will go on—with losses—until ports big enough to handle big boats are captured and repaired.

Skin deal—If somebody can find a machine that'll skin pigs fast and not tear the hide, it'll bring back more soft leather along with the bacon. WPB wants to use pigskin for shoe uppers, but slaughterers with their present equipment have to slow down when they skin pigs carefully enough to use the hide for leather. This slows bacon production, so a machine to skin pigs on a mass-production basis is sought.

Navy department—Reports around the Capitol have it that Navy Secretary Forrestal is looking for a young westerner to succeed him as under-secretary and is considering two congressmen and a navy man.

Representatives Lyndon B. Johnson, Democrat, Texas, and Warren G. Magnuson, Democrat, Washington, both long members of the House naval affairs committee and who have served the navy in the Pacific, are mentioned. The third man is Charles F. Thomas, California business man who was a naval aviator in the first World War and who has been acting as a production expert for the navy in this one.

Bare beer outlook—Brewers would be cut first if the government decides on possible new restrictions on the purchase and use of grains because livestock feeders, industrial users and brewers are competing fiercely for cereals. Some war food officials urge that beer production be cut 25 per cent below last year's level, with the armed forces getting first claim on reduced supply.

Tojo's planes—The Japs show signs of making a supreme effort to build enough planes to regain some of their lost air dominance. Tokyo broadcasts talk about converting some of the millions of idle spinning machines into lathe and other tools for plane making, capacity for which is claimed to be "several times that of a year ago."

The Tojo-sponsored slogan "Build One More Plane" has been upped to an ambitious "Build 1,000 planes, 2,000, yes, 10,000 planes as quickly as possible."

House balance—With five vacancies in their ranks as against only one for the Republicans, House Democrats find their edge over the G. O. P. cut to a shaky margin by the resignation of Rep. Will Rogers Jr.

The political lineup is 215 Democrats, 210 Republicans and four minor party members, with 218 required for a numerical majority. Of the four minor party representatives, at least two invariably vote with the Republicans.

Two of the six vacancies are in New York, two in Illinois, one in Louisiana and one in California. Should special elections be held to fill all of them this year, Republicans believe they have a better than even chance to pick up four seats, giving them a voting strength of 214, only four short of actual majority.

Campaign gag—"My Republican colleagues are predicting that on November 7 there will be a cloudburst of Republican votes," young Rep. Albert Gore, Democrat, Tennessee, told the Pennsylvania Young Democratic Club convention at Harrisburg, Pa., "but my weather prediction for that day is that it will be only a little dew."

Political calendar:
May 30—Alabama Democratic run-off primary in the 7th and 9th districts now represented by Reps. Manso and Newsome.

June 1—Indiana Republicans begin 2-day convention to name 29 national convention delegates; candidates for U. S. Senate (seat of late Senator Van Nuys, Democrat); governor (seat of Governor Shrickler, Democrat); other state offices.

June 2—Maryland Democratic state convention to choose 18 delegates.

June 3—Kansas Democratic state convention names 16-vote delegation.

Other members of the class are Elizabeth Cloud, Louise Talano, Ernest Carr, Harold Fuller, Malcolm Ray, and Wesley Taylor.

'SLANGUAGE' IS USED IN PRISONS

"Double Talk" Common Among Americans In German Camps

By Hal Boyle
LONDON, May 27.—(AP)—American prisoners of war in German camps are developing a new "slanguage" to avoid boredom in confinement.

The first dictionary of this war-born tongue is contained in a letter to Wes Gallagher, Associated Press correspondent, from Lt. Joe Klaas, young American Spitfire pilot captured after he was shot down in Tunisia more than a year ago.

Klaas, a former Seattle newsman, described life in a Nazi prison camp as the "Battle of Boredom Wire Bend." He told how a group of American fliers—he called them "Uncle Sam's fallen angels"—were enjoying a snowball fight on the parade ground "until the command 'Fall in' caused the hundreds of heaving, dodging, white-spattered warriors to cease firing."

"In sudden silence," the letter continued, "a pair of our captors made their routine march around the center of our huge rectangle of caged air-men, counting us gutturally by fives."

Klaas then gave this list of typical expressions used by "kriegers" or old prisoners of war:
"Circuit"—a walk; "purses"—new arrivals; "bash"—banquet; "gash"—extra issue of anything; "cooler"—punishment, and "round-the-bend"—stir crazy.

American troops who survived the winter in chilly bivouacs are now being rewarded by the rural beauty of one of the famous English springs. The air on most days still has a March nip to it but the patterned countryside is ablaze with colorful flowers. Fields and pastures are green like no other green in the world—so bright it almost aches the eye.

In Hyde Park and Kensington Gardens young soldiers stroll with girls past purple lilacs and flaming red maytrees, or lie on the turf under white-blooming giant chestnut trees, careless of slightly envious glances from middle-aged passersby.

A young Nazi pilot had been shot down and was about to die. A young American officer wishing him to have religious consolation in his last hours asked: "Do you wish us to bring you a minister or priest?"

"Hitler is my priest!" the dying Nazi exclaimed.

"If you'll just hold on," he was told, "we'll get him for you."

BIG HIGH-OCTANE OUTPUT FORECAST

Davies Predicts Half Million Barrels Daily By July 1

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 27.—(AP)—Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum administrator, believes that by July 1 the United States will be producing a half-million barrels of 100-octane gasoline daily.

Speaking at the dedication here yesterday of synthetic rubber, butadiene and 100-octane gasoline plants, Davies said:

"Recently Secretary Ickes announced that we were producing 400,000 barrels a day of 100-octane aviation gasoline, enough to send 10,000 planes over Berlin every 24 hours. I will venture a prediction that by July 1, our output will reach half a million barrels daily, an increase of 25 per cent in less than two months."

Davies said the coming invasion of Europe would tax "the last ounce of strength" of the petroleum industry. "But even when Germany goes down," he said, "there is still Japan, and because we must haul supplies half a world away, the strain upon our oil resources and tanker fleets may be greater than ever."

RAIL-AIR EXPRESS SHIPMENTS MOUNT

Combination rail-air express shipments handled for the nation's commercial airlines in the first three months of this year increased 13.6 per cent over the first quarter of 1943.

R. O. Watson, agent of Railway Express Agency, reported here yesterday. A total of 110,342 shipments were moved in the combined service in the three-month period, compared with 92,233 shipments last year, Watson said.

Express charges on this traffic, which originates at or is destined to an off-airline city, and therefore moves part way by rail express, were up 17.5 per cent for the first quarter of 1944.

"By coordinating air and rail express schedules between the 350 United States and Canadian airport cities served by the airlines, and the 23,000 off-airline points served by Railway Express," Mr. Watson explained, "a nation-wide, flexible air shipping service is provided to the public, conducted by a single responsible agency with more than 100 years of transportation experience."

One suggested postwar use of the helicopter is to carry girders and beams to high buildings and bridges during construction, eliminating use of derricks, elevators, and cranes.

is now president of the corporation operating it, which is a Cities Service affiliate.

A group of talented young vocalists, pupils of Mrs. Estelle Sanders, are seen in the glamorous costumes worn at the annual costume recital, May 16. Miss Polly Cole, upper left, was wearing a bizarre gypsy costume for her song number, "La Zingara."

Miss Louise Tisdale, upper right, wore a colorful Spanish costume for her number, "Spanish Tango."

Miss Maurice Tucker, center, wore a white brocaded satin costume and carried in her arms bright red roses, for her number, "God Touched The Rose."

Miss Irvie Lee Humble and Ellis Bairnsfather, center right, wore Colonial costumes for their duet, "Wanting You" from the New Moon.

Miss Dorothy Powell's number, "Italian Street Song," called for ruffled red satin costume with red velvet basque. Lower right.

St. Matthew's Junior, Senior Classes Feted

Rev. Walfried Boeche Gives Principal Address At Annual Banquet Of School

Members of the junior and senior classes of St. Matthews' Parochial school were guests of honor at a beautifully appointed banquet at the Frances hotel with members of the P-T. A. acting as hostesses.

Beautiful flowers formed an effective background for the festivities. The banquet table resembled a summer garden with sprays of magnolias and cape jasmine arranged with great artistry in a wide-spreading plaque bordered with crimson oleanders with tall white tapers burning in their midst.

At each cover, the programs written in Old English script by Mrs. V. C. Spatafora, were rolled in the form of scrolls and tied with white ribbons. The three-course dinner featured southern dishes exclusively.

In the role of toastmaster, Rev. Ralph Cullen proved a genial entertainer. He introduced Monsignor N. F. Vandegier who gave the invocation. Other numbers on the evening's program followed:

Welcome, Mrs. Vincent Marsala, president of St. Matthew's P-T.A. Vocal selection, Miss Charlotte Miller, accompanist Miss Dorothy Williams.

Greetings, Miss Rose Danna, president of St. Matthew's alumni. Toast to the faculty, P-T. A. and alumni—William Loviza. Toast to the seniors from the juniors—Freddie Jean Endom.

Address—Rev. Walfried Boeche. Piano selections, Miss Dorothy Williams.

Presentation of the American Legion awards by Mr. C. E. Braun to Miss Laura Leah Worsham and Wellman Loviza.

Presentation of the D. A. R. history award by Mrs. A. E. Montgomery to Salvatore Danna.

Presentation of the Kiwanis award ($25.00 war bond) by Mr. Jack Russell to S. J. Daigle.

Benediction—Rev. Berchmans Seire. The honor students named for St. Matthew's this year are: Valedictorian, Sue Spatafora; salutatorian, Salvatore Danna; historian, Wellman Loviza; class prophet, Marjorie Johnson.

The class officers of the senior class are: President, William Loviza; vice-president, William Zinsmeister; secretary, Sue Spatafora; treasurer, Meiba Meziel.

The class roll: Sarah Jane Buttitta, Dorothy Lucille Cascio, Salvatore Jude Danna, Wadel Teresa Elias, James E. Faler, Ariess Hodges, Marjorie Catherine Johnson, Wellman J. Loviza, Melba Meziel, Rose Mary Messina, Ann Marie Slavent, Constance Sue Spatafora, Laura Leah Worsham, William E. Zinsmeister.

After the banquet the Mirror room was the scene of the dance honoring juniors and seniors and their "dates" St. Matthews alumni were hosts. Music for this occasion was furnished by a Selman field orchestra.

Miss Ethel Lee Taylor Marries Private Magee

A wedding of charming simplicity and dignity was solemnized at the First Baptist Church of Jena, when Miss Ethel Lee Taylor, only daughter of Mrs. R. B. Taylor, and the late Dr. Taylor of Jena, La., became the bride of Pfc. Edwin H. Magee, U. S. M. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Magee of Shreveport, La.

The ceremony, performed by Rev. A. L. Russell, took place on March 8, at 6 o'clock in the evening. The candlelit scene was fragrant with the perfume of wild dogwood and Formosa azaleas, which were placed at points of vantage. The vows were exchanged under a leagustum entwined arch, which had been used by three preceding brides.

Miss Evelyn Jane Walker and Miss Evora Gaar served as ushers, and the candles, arranged in tall white candelabra, were lighted by Mrs. Billie Walters and Miss Mary Evelyn Atwood. Prenuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Shep Poland, Mrs. Purl Wright, in lovely voice, sang "I Love You Truly," and the bride's favorite, "Because."

The bride was attended by her mother, who served as matron of honor. Her suit of black wool gabardine was complemented by black spring accessories, and a corsage of white gardenias.

Private Magee was attended by Cpl. Robert C. Waddell, U. S. M. C., a lifelong friend.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her maternal uncle, Mr. Q. R. Hudson, was lovely in a dressmaker suit of lilac wool, enhanced by a petite persian purple hat and veil. This charming ensemble was completed with a pair of silver fox furs. She carried a white miniature Bible, topped by a deep purple orchid from which streamers of small white carnations hung. All of the age old traditions, including a "dime in her shoe, and something blue" were observed. For "something old" the bride wore a small antiquated pin which has been in her family for generations.

The reception, following the ceremony, was held at the bride's home, with only the immediate family in attendance. Lovely spring flowers were artistically arranged, throughout the living room and dining room, and with the wedding gifts, which were on display, formed the background for the wedding party.

The bride's table in the dining room was overlaid with beautiful lace and centrally adorned with a tiered wedding cake surmounted with figurines of a bride and a uniformed bridegroom. After cutting their wedding

MRS. M. W. GRIMM

Mrs. Grimm of Shreveport, president of the first auxiliary of the Military Order of the Purple Heart organized in the state of Louisiana, was in Monroe Tuesday May 23 and presented formal obligation to local members. Mrs. Grimm presented a short and interesting history of the origin of the Purple Heart decoration.

She and the bridegroom departed for a brief honeymoon. Mrs. Magee attended Louisiana State Normal College and was for awhile employed as a teacher in the public schools of Louisiana. She is now employed by the LaSalle parish department of public welfare and plans to continue with her work.

Prior to Private Magee's enlistment in the marine corps, he was employed by the Continental Supply Company. He has recently returned from overseas duty in the southwest Pacific, and will for the time being be stationed in San Diego, California. There were quite a number of out-of-town friends and relatives in attendance. They included Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Magee, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Magee, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Hebert and Mrs. Nell McAllister, Shreveport, La.; Mrs. Philip Gaharan, Mrs. H. R. Whitman and small daughter, Sally, Dallas, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Phillips and son, Earl, Kelly, La.; and Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. Blasher and sons, Billy and Dicky, Alexandria, La.

Miss Scott Hale And Sgt. Northcott To Wed

Mrs. Naomi S. Hale of Waterproof announces the engagement of her daughter, Scott, of Baton Rouge, to Sgt. Bailey Peyton Northcott of Glenmora.

The wedding will take place June in the Chapel of the Desert in Tucson, Arizona.

Miss Hale, who is living with her aunt, Mrs. Shelby M. Jackson of Baton Rouge, is a graduate of Baton Rouge High School, attended Louisiana State Normal College in Natchitoches, and took a B. A. degree at Florida McDonald College in Re Springs, North Carolina.

Sergeant Northcott is the son of Mrs. E. H. Winegeart of Glenmora and is at present stationed in Tucson with the army air corps.

Miss Freiberg's Pupils Present Piano Recital

Parents and friends of many of Monroe's young musicians assembled at the Georgia Tucker School for a charming piano recital presented by the piano pupils of Miss Clare Freiberg.

The evening's program was offered against a pleasing background. Lovely floral decorations and indirect lighting formed an artistic setting for the performance of the young musicians.

At the beginning of the program all of the students were presented in a unique and timely manner. The curtains on the stage were opened as the students stood in a "V" formation. While they remained in this position, the audience joined them in singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

It is recognized by good musicians everywhere that on a recital of this sort all kinds of musical moods must be expressed, a judicious balance between solo and ensemble must be maintained, and good composers of piano literature from all important periods should be included in the musical "menu." The numbers heard on this musical hour met every one of these most exacting requirements.

In judging the performance of the students one important standard is the musician's guide—the artistry with which the compositions are played. This brings to mind such points to be considered as good phrasing and shading, clarity, firmness of tone, good rhythmic control, simplicity and ease of muscular movements used in playing. In this respect, too, the recital was a distinct success. Teacher and pupils are to be congratulated on their excellent musical attainments. They should also be encouraged to continue their splendid work to reach still higher artistic goals.

It is gratifying to note that boys are in ever increasing numbers taking up the study of the piano and gaining great satisfaction and pleasure from the knowledge gained.

The program, which a large number of music lovers enjoyed, follows:

"Star Spangled Banner" (national anthem, Doris Ruth Brown).

Duet—"Through Field and Forest" (Vogel), Rai Fergus, Frances Fergus.

"Grasshopper at Play" (Dunn), Louisette Trousdale.

"Heads Up, Forward March" (Copeland) Tommie Jane Lawhead.

"The Dancing Party" (Bennett), Claire Heimann.

"Playing Hopscotch" (Adair), Frances Fergus.

"The Joyous Peasant" (Schumann), Ralph Troy.

"Viennese Waltz" (Gurlitt), Rai Fergus.

"Humpty Dumpty" (Baumfelder), Shirley Kay Stalcup.

"Doll's Lamest" (Cesar Franck), Margaret Ann Lee.

Duet—"Scotch Dance" (Streabog), Peggy Strauss, Ann Shafte.

"My School Band" (Rofte), John Birdsong Jr.

"Dance on the Lawn" (Kullak), Peggy Strauss.

Melodies from "Martha" (Flotow), Alice Nobes.

Lt. Berry Marries In San Francisco

A marriage of interest to friends in this city took place in San Francisco, Calif., when Miss Opal Robinson of Huntington, W. V., became the bride of Lieutenant Bernard Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Berry of Monroe, La.

The ceremony took place at the First Methodist church with the pastor, Rev. W. C. Eddy, officiating.

Mrs. Charlotte Collins sang, "Will You Love Me Always." She was accompanied by Mrs. Jessie Almond, organist.

The bride was attired in a tailored suit of spring blue and wore a corsage of pink sweetpeas and miniature lilies.

Lt. Berry is a graduate of Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge, and is a torpedo flyer on an aircraft carrier and has just returned from combat duty in the South Pacific.

Lt. Berry was visiting his aunt, Mrs. Hugh Thigpen, where his fiancée was awaiting his return so that they might be married before his next orders were received.

After the wedding a reception was given at the home of Mrs. Thigpen, 377 MacArthur boulevard.

The couple left for a short honeymoon in southern California.

Mrs. Hatch Addresses Monroe Literary Club

Facing The Future With The Fine Arts' Is Subject
Of Interesting Paper

"Facing the Future with the Fine Arts," supplied the topic for an excellent paper prepared and read by Mrs. Noble Hatch, fifth district president of the Louisiana Federated Women's Clubs at the meeting last week of the Monroe Literary Club at the Monroe Recreation Club with Mrs. A. B. Colmer and Mrs. J. R. Roark, hostesses.

One of the highlights of this interesting meeting, the last of the club season, was the beautiful vocal number, "Little Lamb," rendered by Miss Anna Ahola, voice instructor at North-east Junior College. As an encore she favored with "Beyond," by Alice Barnett. Miss Eloise Calhoun was piano accompanist.

Mrs. W. L. Moore, club president, presided during the brief business session and introduced two new members, Mrs. C. D. McAdams and Mrs. W. Womack Jr.

Mrs. Hatch said in part:

"Out of the many fields of her past, the clubwoman is accumulating seeds of experience, ideals, beliefs, stored energy and aspiration, and planting them with generous hands in the hallowed soil of today, to bring forth a more splendid realization in the Victory garden of tomorrow. Wide indeed must be the sowing if humanity is to come through the ordeal it is now facing, and emerge, not shattered by faith and trust, but with a strengthened, deeper knowledge that out of the chaos of human thought and the Divine, that can and will free the thought forces of liberty, justice and brotherhood.

"The clubwomen of America are redefining themselves anew, in earnest endeavor, to do all the tasks that lie before them, and to bring to fruition all that their hearts conceive of good, that they shall not fail to produce a harvest of richness for the joy of our people, by a generous sowing of the seeds of good deeds.

"Only too well we know the ungenerous hand. The closed hand loses the power to open and can then neither give nor receive. May it never be true of any American clubwoman that she shall stand unthinkingly or deliberately with closed hand, refusing her seeds of money and love while any call for help by the nation remains unheard.

"The General Federation of Women's Clubs for over fifty years has been an organization rendering service to homes, families, communities and nations, cooperating and working for the welfare of mankind. Now, we are faced with more complex problems than ever before in the history of our federation and our country.

"The home life of many of our women is sadly neglected with their men gone, their energies diverted, their future uncertain. Whose business is it to see about these things? Yours and mine. We are the women who have leisure and the equipment to investigate conditions and the power to insist on correction. What other group in the United States is so well-fitted for this work as the general federation?

"The home is civilization's first line of defense and its great function is to make America strong by making homes stronger. We women must see to it that the home life of those in our community is made happier. The work of many of these women (wives and daughters in many cases) is necessary both to the prosecution of the war and to their livelihood, but they are the mothers of our boys and girls of today and tomorrow on whose welfare the nation's future depends. Thus, for a two-fold reason should they be safeguarded against unwholesome conditions. Awaken these women and girls to their responsibility in serving their country by upholding moral standards as a patriotic service. Small use will it be to save democracy for

The marriage of Pvt. Verna Ione Theise, United States Marine Corps Women's Reserve, and Pfc. Clemon J. White, United States Marine Corps, took place at the Little Chapel of the Dawn in Santa Monica, Calif.

BERNHARDT BLDG.

Miss Alma De Blieux Weds Kenneth Honeycutt

A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends took place April 27, when Miss Alma De Blieux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis De Blieux, of Bastrop, became the bride of Kenneth Clark Honeycutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Honeycutt of Mer Rouge, La.

The double ring ceremony took place at the Sanctuary of St. Joseph Catholic church in the presence of the immediate family and intimate friends.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mildred De Blieux who wore a distinctive model of soldier blue silk crepe with matching accessories. Her corsage was of light pink carnations.

The groom was attended by Dr. B. J. Amoroso, and the bride's father, Louis De Blieux.

The bride was becomingly attired in a two-piece model of azure blue crepe, trimmed with narrow ruffles extending over the shoulders to the waist. Her hat was a pompadour model of white straw adorned with bridal veiling. She wore a corsage of salmon pink gladioli.

The bride observed all the old traditions including a "penny in her shoe, and something borrowed and something blue." Her only ornament was a Sacred Heart Medal, a gift from the groom. She carried a white covered prayer book with blue streamers. This book, belonging to a cherished friend, has been used by generations of brides.

The bride is a graduate of Bastrop High school and attended Bush Mathis Institute. She is a charter member of Mu Sigma honorary society, a life member of Sigma Phi, of Monroe chapter and a member of Alpha Omega.

The groom is a graduate of Mer Rouge High School and attended Shreveport Aeronautical Institute. Prior to his enlistment in the United States army air corps, he was employed by North American Aviation Company, of Inglewood, Calif. He successfully completed a radio code course at Camp Crowder, Mo., and is stationed at Kelly Field, Texas.

"Music speaks the language of the universal human heart, through it every man hears in his own tongue. The Rev. William P. Merrill says: "Now music is unique among the arts in that it is vital in its essence. It has not come down to us from the past; it must be produced in our very presence, to have its effect. Raphael and Michelangelo left us works of great art, products of their genius, to be set in galleries to see them. We want to see their original work. But Palestrina and Bach and Handel have left us not works of art at all, but directions for producing living works of art. When we want to get the best these great masters left us, we do not go to libraries and museums and seek out the original scores; we go where great organs and choruses and orchestras set these works before us in present reality."

"Is not that the perfect type of religion as we conceive it? The Bible is not an art gallery so much as it is a collection of musical scores. The essential thing is that we make the music which the Bible tells us how to make the song of which the written Gospel is the score. Religion is vital. It must be known in real living, or it has no more value than the scores of the greatest symphonies set away on a shelf. Music brings pleasure through participation and through listening."

"We are thinking of the time 'when the lights go on again all over the world' and realizing that we cannot sit at the peace-table and bring about a war-free United Nations without intelligence and a sympathy with and understanding of other countries. Let us start now and face the future by studying the culture and background of our neighbors. Through literature, drama, art and music we can face the future and thank the living God who speaks to us through the fine arts."

Following the program Mrs. W. L. Moore expressed her appreciation to members for their cooperation during the club year and presented the incoming president, Mrs. J. K. Blue. Mrs. Julius Chandler, program chairman for the new year, distributed the year books, which are attractive and well-planned.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following members:

Guests were Mrs. C. Noble Hatch, Mrs. D. N. Barron, Miss Irma Ahola and Mrs. Harry Campbell.

All work is supervised and guaranteed by Mr. Boone, well known hair stylist.

What is it that dominates our sex that women do not stand by one another? Why are there no women in the United States taking comparative places with the man in this great effort? These questions and a lot like them were asked and answered by Mrs. John Whitehurst when he stepped down from her office as president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Whitehurst was a dominant figure at the national convention held recently in St. Louis. Her address went down in history and will be its imprint on the minds of club women attending the convention from every state in the union and from foreign countries. Mrs. Whitehurst, continuing her questions and answers to the question, "Why are there no women in the United States taking comparative places with the man in this great effort?" she said, "It is because men are superior in intellect and vision? No, it is because men will help another when he is in his way up—but the majority of men will permit pettiness, jealousy, envy to interfere with the progress of women."

She could not have stressed these weaknesses while I was on the way. I might have been misunderstood. Today, as I am about to relinquish the highest office in official position, I take this opportunity to point out the weaknesses with the clubwomen reading and charged. I will feel so embarrassed and chagrined that their reactions will be a burning factor in an attempt to overcome these weaknesses. In this way, women may climb to greater heights, unshackled from their own fears, and with a determination to do those who aspire to leadership, whether in a local, state, or national organization, she said.

The equal status of women, which has been discussed at conventions and conferences since 1900, was finally agreed by the General Federation at its year's convention. "All we ask is the right to live as free individuals, enjoying the same impartial measures of justice meted out to men," declared Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the National Woman's party. "Declaring that there are still some nineteenth-century statesmen floating around who not only want to keep women on the pedestal, but keep her on it as well," she said. "The rights amendment 'would give us the whole loaf of bread, rather than desperately grabbing for the loaf, and failing to realize they may be reduced to a crust.' The correct state by state the thousand and one injustices under which we now suffer," she said, "would 100 years and then all the gain it be dissipated by the next legislature; therefore, the only way to be certain that women have equal justice under the law is to add this amendment to the constitution."

Something to look forward to is the book review at the Frances Hotel, Tuesday night, May 30, sponsored by members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church. Mrs. Frances Peterson will be presented in a review of Robert Turnbull's "The Raft."

An outstanding feature of the evening will be the song number "There Is No Death" by Mrs. Estelle Sanders in response to a special request. Mrs. Evelyn Atkinson is president of the Wesleyan Service Guild, an organization for business and professional women in the Methodist Church. Miss Elizabeth Langford is the chairman of recreational activities and is responsible for the splendid programs featuring book reviews and other interesting events.

A silver offering on Tuesday night will be devoted to the work the Guild is carrying on in China.

The great annual rush for relaxation out of doors gathers momentum with the approach of June and the beginning of official summer vacation schedules. The trek has started for nearby lakes and streams where the fishing is good and the simple mode of living is a respite from those who are experiencing servant troubles. When Captain Walter Schubert arrived in Monroe for a ten-day leave of absence he and Mrs. Schubert and small son, Stephen, enjoyed the entire ten days in a cabin on Lake Caney, near Minden. Mrs. Schubert is making her home for the duration with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Landry.

Gasoline shortage and tire rationing have played havoc with the week-end parties at the Fred Fudickar's summer lodge on Lake St. John. However station wagons are providing means of transportation for those who are able to accept invitations for week-end outings. The W. J. Rileys are not deprived of their regular week-end trips to their summer lodge on the Ouachita river as it is located close enough to permit the family to motor back and forth.

Mrs. Samuel Ivy returned to Monroe last week from Lebanon, Tenn., where Mr. Ivy is convalescing from a protracted illness. To attend to business affairs and to say goodbye to friends as she and Mr. Ivy will make their home in Lebanon in the future. Friends witnessed the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Ivy with genuine regret as they are counted among Monroe's most substantial citizens. Communities always suffer a loss when citizens of their ilk take up residence elsewhere.

Readers Clique Officers Installed At Meeting

Mrs. Henry Loeb, president of the Readers Clique pinned exquisite corsages on the shoulders of the new officers who were installed with impressive candlelit ceremony in the home of Mrs. Walker Glenn Jr., where the last meeting of a year of splendid achievement, took place last week.

An atmosphere of festivity prevailed on this occasion with beautiful flowers banking the reception suite adding charm and color.

The roll call and minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Sidney Gill. Mrs. Fred Parrish, chairman of the club projects committees announced that over a thousand hours had been given by the club members on the various club projects for this year. The members have been very active on the projects chosen, some have been working on Red Cross surgical dressing, some have been doing Red Cross knitting, while others have worked on the reconditioning of toys for the under-privileged children, U. S. O. work and Recreation Center. Each member drew for a book to keep as a customary at the close of each club year.

After the installation service the club collect was read by the members in unison, "Help us, O God, to rebuild the world for more splendid lives than ours. Accustom us to work not for the matched profit but for the common good and for the planned destiny of mankind. Free us from the triple curse of greed, intolerance and vainglory. Help us to establish comradeship and to exemplify in our own lives the spirit of good will and understanding. Let us attribute to those who differ from us the same degree of sincerity that we claim for ourselves. May we do more than live and let live. May we live and help live."

A beautiful gift was presented to the outgoing president, Mrs. Loeb, with deep appreciation from the club members for her splendid work this year, by Mrs. Louis Peters.

The new officers are: president, Mrs. Raymond John; vice-president, Mrs. Alvin Furlow; secretary, Mrs. Sidney Gill; treasurer, Mrs. Walker Glenn Jr.; reported, Mrs. Joe Bennett.

During the conversational hour that followed, the hostess served delicious refreshments to the following mem-

The Ferriday Women's Club had their Flower Show Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church annex. Mrs. W. P. Jensen won the grand prize for the best exhibit of flowers, canned goods and victory garden products. Considerable comment was made on the attractive exhibit of the Concordia parish library which was displayed there. It included a colorful poster, showing a girl rolling a wheelbarrow filled with Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exclusively prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 10 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable, thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin, or for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend

Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight!

GRANDMOTHER'S BOND WITH THE FUTURE -WAR BONDS

.. for your grandchildren,
the best in the world!

ORDINARILY, age brings certain privileges. One of the greatest of them, perhaps, is that of watching, from the sidelines, the growth and progress of our children's families.

Certainly one of the rewards of being a mother is becoming a grandmother—able to enjoy our sons' and daughters' children to the full, while leaving the responsibility for them in other hands.

The war, which has changed so many things, has changed this too. When the war took our sons—when it broke up our children's homes—it gave back to America's grandmothers responsibilities which we had passed on long ago. The privilege of growing older quietly has been denied the women of our generation while this war lasts.

For today, our grandchildren need our help. And it is in our power to give them greater help, perhaps, than any grandparents ever gave before.

We can give this help by buying War Bonds and Stamps—for our children's children. And no other single thing that we can do will help so much, or in so many different ways.

Every dollar put into War Bonds now does many all-important jobs today—and will do many more in the future.

War Bonds can help to bring fighting fathers back to their families next year—the year after—as soon as possible. War Bonds can provide those families now with aid in case of illness or emergency. War Bonds can help assure an education for a boy whose father comes back crippled—or does not come back at all. War Bonds can help to guarantee a busy, prosperous America for our sons when they return—an America in which our grandsons can find all the opportunities they need to lead the fullest, happiest lives in all the world.

The Grandmothers' War Bond League is simply a way of recognizing and uniting the millions of American grandmothers who are today buying War Bonds and Stamps for their grandchildren. Every one who buys a Bond or Stamp in a grandchild's name automatically becomes a member.

Join the Grandmothers' War Bond League today!

The Grandmothers' League was founded by Mrs. George C. Marshall, wife of the Army Chief of Staff. It is not a formal club. It is simply a roll of honor which grandmothers automatically belong to when they buy bonds, or start stamp albums, for their grandchildren. Mrs. Marshall urges every grandmother in America to help the fighting men today . . . and their children tomorrow, by joining the Grandmothers' War Bond League.

SELMAN MISSIONS AND ESSLER FIELD TEAM MEET HERE TODAY

Murry To Pitch For Locals In Quest Of Third Straight Victory

Appearing on the local diamond for the first time in two weeks, the Selman Field Missions are prepared for the invasion of the Essler Field baseball team here today and the two teams will meet on the Casino park diamond this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. It will be the initial clash of the season between the rival clubs.

The Missions have been on the road for the past couple of weeks and during this stretch added two more triumphs to their string. Falling victim to the Selman aggregation was the Harding Field nine by a 9 to 0 margin and the 59th Cavalry Reconnaissance squadron team of Camp Polk by a 9 to 3 count. A scheduled contest between Selman and Southwestern Louisiana Institute was rained out at Lafayette last week so the Missions have now marked up seven victories in nine starts. Camp Livingston and the 89th boys of Polk are the only two clubs to have set the locals back this year and each of these two teams were defeated decisively in return games.

William (Wild Red) Murry, ace right hander, will be seeking his third straight win over the Essler combination this afternoon. Last year, "Big Red" hurled Selman to triumph in both of their contests with the Essler nine. Murry set the Alexandria outfit down by a 6 to 2 score there and then eased out a 4 to 3 verdict in the return tilt here. Essler has a much improved ball club to pit against the Missions today and the invaders will be out to shell their old enemies from the mound and put a stop to Selman's mastery over them.

A pair of fly chasers that weren't in the lineup when the Missions made their last appearance at Casino park will be on hand this afternoon to add potential power to the plate. These two, Ed Steinhauser, center fielder, and Billy Gibson, left fielder, appeared for the Selman juggernaut on the road trip and proved a big asset. Steinhauser, veteran from last season, returned from furlough in time to make the trip to Baton Rouge and Camp Polk and rapped the apple hard in those two games, besides contributing some fielding gems. Gibson, a newcomer to the Missions' fold, has made a sensational debut by clouting a total of five hits in 10 trips to the plate and driven in four runs in the two games with Harding Field and Camp Polk.

The complete Selman lineup will likely consist of Steinhauser, center field; Othel Payne, right field; Claude Corbett, shortstop; Pete Medak, first base; Buddy Blair, third base; Dick Washburn, second base; Gibson, left field; Fred Dugdon, catcher, and Murry, pitcher.

Cosch Blair also has five mountings ready to toe at the Essler nine in case Murry should falter. Two southpaws, Kirby Jones and Marion Reed, and three right handers, Gerry deBouchel, Jim Erben and Ray Reith, make up this quintet.

WILLIAMS' TEAM WINS

PANAMA CITY, Fla., May 27.—(P)—Ted Williams, former Boston Red Sox outfielder star and American league batting champion, made his 1934 baseball debut today as he and his Bronson Field Navy teammates from Pensacola defeated the Tyndall Field Army team, 8 to 6.

Williams hit a triple and two singles in five times at bat.

TIGERS BEAT A'S TO HALT STREAK

Higgins Scores In 10th To End Losing Performances At Home

DETROIT, May 27.—(P)—Southpaw Hal Newhouser cashed in on a five-hit pitching performance today when Pinky Higgins scored on an infield out in the tenth inning to give the Detroit Tigers a 2 to 1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics, who took the other three games of the series.

The Tigers filled the bases with one out in the tenth, and Higgins scored when the A's tried for a double play on Paul Richards' roller and missed. It was Detroit's second home victory in 14 starts.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 27.—(P)—While the Big Ten football coaches were reaching a "gentlemen's agreement" not to play safe on kickoffs the other day, the basketball coaches were told that they ain't no gentlemen or they wouldn't teach rough tactics. . . . The contrast, interesting as it may be, is unimportant but the whole thing stresses the wartime development of coaches assuming roles that they never dared try before. . . . With the colleges' permission, a lot of coaches have done surprising things to keep their teams—and their jobs—going. . . . This week-end the National Football Coaches Association will discuss whether they should by-pass the dormant rules committee so as to give the customers a livelier game. . . . Can you imagine the old-time glorified trainers doing that?

Whether Are We, Etc?
Wonder if eventually all the big-time grid coaches will operate like Slip Madigan used to, when he'd dig up a team and a schedule for St. Mary's, share in the profits and run a sooper-dooper fans' tour to one of the games? . . . And if they do, wonder if the undergraduates and alumni will retain the old college spirit or will they regard football as a sort of semi-pro show trading on the colleges' names?

Shorts and Shells
Glenn Cunningham still is running as a member of the Great Lakes mile relay team—and with no expense account. . . . Alta, Utah, where the snow still is so deep that skiing will continue until late June, is where the infamous "Bucket of Blood" saloon was located. . . . In those days, they never buried the casualties in Alta in winter, just stacked 'em up until the spring thaw. An amateur's idea of skiing is that the place probably hasn't changed much. . . . Charlie Moran has profiled Bill Dickey, Frankie Fusch and Jack Campbell, New York racing handicappers, for True magazine. . . . Illinois Tech has no varsity eleven but it has eleven varieties. . . . In sports ranging from baseball to fencing. . . .

A Rookie A Day
Walter Dubiel and Joe Page, Yankees' pitchers, double feature from Newark, where Dubiel won 16 games and Page 14 last year. . . . Both products of the chain system with Dubiel moving up a little faster since he pitched for three sandlot teams in Hartford, Conn., in 1940, the year Page broke into pro ball at Butler, Pa. . . . When Hartford fans tossed a dinner for Dubiel, he got a job pitching a twilight game to avoid it. . . . He was shanghaied, still in uniform, and brought down the house by saying nothing. . . . Still prefers to let the records talk for him.

Service Dept.
Pvt. Jerry Gibbons, son of Tommy, the old heavyweight, is training to become an operator-mechanic at the air force radio school at Sioux Falls, S. D. . . . Because of a mixup in names, Bob Wilson son of the former Cubs' manager, was in the air force for three months before he got on the pay roll. . . . His old man probably could teach him a few things about getting on and off payrolls.

KEESLER FIELD DEFEATS SOUTHWESTERN, 12 TO 1

BILOXI, Miss., May 27.—(P)—Keesler Field's baseball team dedicated its new diamond today with a 12-1 victory over Southwestern Louisiana Institute of Lafayette, La.

The A. A. F. training command team, put on its biggest offensive spurge of the season, tallying 8 runs in a big third inning. The team, under Captain Herman Rohrig held a four-nothing lead in the second game when play was called because of a sudden down-pour in the third inning.

Sgt. John Carey, former Brooklyn Dodger farmhand, twirled for the winner and never was in difficulty. He limited the V12-studded navy team to five singles and allowed only one unearned run in the seventh.

LIVINGSTON SCORES 5-1 WIN OVER LOUISIANA TECH
RUSTON, La., May 27.—(P)—Camp Livingston's nine, proved too strong for Louisiana Tech's baseball players this afternoon scoring a 5 to 1 victory.

Tech batters pounded out four more hits than their opponents but they were unable to bunch them effectively. Errors contributed materially to Livingston win.

JUNIOR SOFTBALL LEAGUE TO MEET

The Red Shield Junior Softball League, slated to open its second season here June 5, has a scheduled meeting for all team managers at the Red Shield Club on Harrison street Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced last night by Captain Jack Heskeith of the Salvation Army, league sponsor.

The junior circuit, restricted to boys 15 years old and younger, has a present membership of seven teams. An eighth team would be welcomed, it was said, to insure a well-rounded league. Any person or organization desiring to field a team should have a representative at the Tuesday meeting.

Teams ready to go were listed as two clubs from the Louisiana Training Institute yet to be given distinguishing names, Red Shield, First Christian Church, Independence, St. Matthew's and Troop 12 of Boy Scouts of America of West Monroe.

O. N. McNeil, who serves as commissioner of the Red Shield senior loop, is also commissioner of the junior league.

The former Cincinnati Reds' Farm Club hurler teaches combat crewmen, soon to meet the enemy, all the tricks of the trade and keeps his own arm in shape playing ball with the Airfield squad.

CUBS WIN 3 TO 2 FOR 7TH IN ROW

Schuster's Double In 9th Gives Chicago Margin Over Braves

BOSTON, May 27.—(P)—The Chicago Cubs chalked up their seventh straight victory today with Bill Schuster's ninth inning double bringing in the run that gave them a 3 to 2 win over the Boston Braves.

It was the Cub's fourth straight win over the Braves and the teams were tied two to two in the ninth.

Don Johnson started the winning run off in the last with a single and was sacrificed to second by Willing. After Henry Wyse grounded out, Schuster's double to right center brought Johnson home.

MIAMI BEACH FIELD
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., May 27.—(P)—Glen Dobbs, Jr., All-America college football player at the University of Tulsa and chosen on the Associated Press' All-America service team when he played for Randolph Field last fall, made history at the army air force officer candidate school here today by winning both the military and athletic awards upon graduation.

Nearly 50,000 men have been commissioned from the school here, but Dobbs is the first to be presented with two awards.

The 23-year-old native of Frederick, Okla., was selected for the military award for his performance as OCS Corps commander during the final month of training. He won the athletic trophy by compiling the best record in his class for all-round physical performance.

Dobbs received his commission as a second lieutenant along with his mates in the next-to-last class which will be trained at the beach school.

SOUTHERN MAY DRAW NEARLY MILLION FANS

MEMPHIS, May 27.—(P)—The Southern Association is off to a booming start this year, with President Billy Evans announcing today that the attendance for the first four weeks of play has exceeded by nearly 50,000 the turnout for the same period a year ago.

"If present business continues throughout the season," asserts the loop executive, "there is every reason to believe the league will threaten a 900,000 attendance total—a throwback to the good old days when the Southern used to play annually to a million people or more."

Evans said through the first 28 games of the present season, Southern teams have played to 199,569 paid admissions—exclusive of servicemen and ladies—compared with 151,208 for the same period in 1943.

His arithmetic gives him a surprising increase of exactly 48.61. The league president declared every club shows an increase over last year's business except Little Rock, which had the misfortune of having its opening game three times washed out by rain. Still, the Travelers' crowd figures are about even with those of 1943.

CANCEL MEET
DALLAS, May 27.—(P)—A water-soaked field forced cancellation of the Southwest A. A. U. track and field meet here today but there was a possibility it would be reset for next week-end.

At the expense of Specs young brother, Jimmy, by a 5 and 3. In the morning round match, out E. J. Johnson III, 3 and 4. Man reached the finals with a golf over a muddy course, climbed Jack Tinnin, heavy golfer from veston, 6 and 5.

Jimmy Goldman created the upset of the day when he knocked the pre-tournament favorite, C. Stewart Jr., of the Fort Worth airfield, 2 and 1. Then he advanced to the semi-finals with a 5 and 4 over Bob Hughes, FC golfer.

TWILIGHT TEAR BELMONT WINNER

Short-Priced Calumet Easily Cops Coaching Club Oaks

NEW YORK, May 27.—(P)—It was the same old story at Belmont today as Twilight Tear ran her string of victories to seven straight and again proved that she is the queen of the three-year-old fillies.

Favorite at the prohibitive odds of 1-10, the bay daughter of Bulrush from Warren Wright's Calumet, soundly whipped five other fillies in the mile and three-quarters of the American Coaching Club before a crowd of 34,475 that included several unusual angles in wagering.

The total bet on the race was 247, unusual in view of the fact one horse was such a stand-out show pool of $186,774, of which $1 was wagered on the Calumet, which was larger than the win pool of $637 and cost the management $14, since the law requires that 10 cent returned on each $2 invested. Light's support in the win bet totalled $136,442.

As the result of her heavy betting, the winner paid $2.20 for $2 to win $2.30 to place while giving the players the minimum of $2.10.

The race itself was Twilight Tear from the start to the finish. Creary broke the bay filly up and she was on the front end a way, pulling away in the stretch win by five lengths. Dare Me, Mrs. Dodge Sloane's Brooklyn stable was second, four lengths in advance of Plucky M

MEMORIAL DAY SERMON SLATED

Legionnaires To Go To First
Methodist Sunday Night

Legionnaires from all over the Fifth district will spend the morning in Bastrop attending the conference scheduled there. Following a barbecue at noon there, they will return home.

The L. B. Faulk post of Monroe, and the Burnett-Douglas post of West Monroe, will attend a joint memorial service at the First Methodist church in Monroe, tonight at 8 p. m. when the pastor, Rev. A. M. Serex, will take for his sermon theme: "Onward Christian Soldiers." The Legion members will be seated in a body in the church. This service is in connection with national Memorial day, May 30, which this year falls on Tuesday so is observed in the churches on Sunday.

Fully 300 graves of veterans of past wars were decorated by Legionnaires on Saturday when all principal cemeteries in Monroe were visited under the general direction of Legionnaire Charles M. Mitchell.

Approximately 11,800,000 words are spoken by the average man every year.

KIWANIS ESSAY WINNERS NAMED

More Than 1,600 Entries In
'Keep America American'
Contest

The four winners in the Monroe and West Monroe Kiwanis Clubs' "Keep America American" essay contest, in which $25 War Bonds were awarded, were announced Saturday. They are: Lena Marjorie Martin, Northeast Junior College; Sallie Foster, Neville High School; Dorothy Ann Mitchell, Ouachita Parish High School, and S. J. Daigle, St. Matthew's High School.

More than 1,600 essays from the four schools were entered in the contest, which was under the direction of W. R. Hammond, chairman of the "Keep America American" committee of the combined Kiwanis clubs.

Excerpts from the prize winning essays as follows:

Miss Martin: "A nation remains great only as long as each citizen thinks his country is great."

Miss Foster: "American democracy believes that the development of the individual is for the good of society and gives each person the opportunity and freedom to develop accordingly."

Miss Mitchell: "Freedom is a spiritual thing, yet it is one of the strongest forces on earth. The United States is founded on freedom."

Daigle: "We must work so that America will be a country that all free men will be proud of."

INJURED SLIGHTLY
ALEXANDRIA, La.—First Lt. Rollins C. Snelling, Spence Field, Moultrie, Ga., escaped with slight injuries when he made a forced landing late yesterday near Forest Hill, the Alexandria army airfield reported today. Lieutenant Snelling was en route to the DeRidder, La., airfield.

HATCHERIES TURN OUT FEWER CHICKS

BATON ROUGE, La., May 27.—(AP)—The Louisiana Cooperative Reporting Service here said today that Louisiana hatcheries produced 16 per cent fewer chicks during April than in the same month last year.

The total number of eggs set by hatcheries in Louisiana during April, the report said, was 1,185,000 compared with 1,756,000 in April, 1942.

Total chicks hatched during the four months, January-April, was 3,114,000 compared with 3,919,000 during the same months last year, the report said.

The L. C. R. S. said the number of chicks hatched in the entire United States during April totaled 292,709,000 compared with 320,600,000 in April, 1942, a decrease of 9 per cent. There were 18 per cent fewer eggs set during April 1944 than during April last year. Chicks booked on May were less than half the number booked on the same date a year ago.

WRITES LONESOME G. I.
ALEXANDRIA ARMY AIR FIELD, La., May 27.—(AP)—When the daily post, "No mail for you today" comes too monotonous, Sgt. Andri Grissaff, mail clerk, sits down and writes the affected "G. I. Joe" friendly, cheerful card himself. Grissaff, a morale builder, says soldiers at heavy bombardment training base are "tired of no mail."

SELMAN FIELD FIGHTERS BUSY

'Red Raiders' Cause Japs
Plenty Of Worry In New Guinea

ADVANCE ECHELON, 5TH A. A. F., SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA.—When Jap installations in New Guinea catch tons of bombs from the crack heavy bomber unit of the Fifth Air Force in New Guinea, the "Red Raiders," they can reckon on 26 good reasons why they don't like Selman Field, La., and the navigators it turns out.

For 28 Selman Field graduates are included in the "Raider" outfit, all graduates of the same class. There are, of course, other Selman graduates too, but 28 of the young officers are still together after receiving their wings and bars together.

Flight 31, class of 45-7, was graduated on May 22, 1943. This flight was the only cadet class to graduate at that time, the others being bombardiers and student officers. Of 39 men graduated, 31 volunteered for immediate overseas training and combat, and of these 31, 28 came to the "Raiders" in the southwest Pacific area. Twenty-two of them are still navigating Liberator bombers and have played major parts in excellent record of the outfit.

The Selman men are Lt. Everett L. Albaugh, Christos Alexion, Seymour L. Alger, Walter Birch, Tadesz Biechazyk, Edward A. Bohnert Jr., William H. Bounds, Samuel A. Boyd Jr., William J. Bruenderman, Arthur Carcanis, John E. Clark, Joseph L. J. Donovan, John P. Gulligan, William E. Gray, James P. Gullison, Wallace W. Hamer, Gene W. Hewett, Andrew Hollick Jr., Robert W. Knoll, Raymond B. Puckett, Benjamin Stovitz, and Pearl A. Warner.

Flight 31, which maintained its unity probably more than any single unit in Selman Field history, has contributed to the "Red Raiders" four intelligence officers, one public relations officer, 16 flight leaders and others. Four men are in line for the coveted positions of squadron navigators. They have averaged approximately 40 combat missions per man to date, some having as high as 60 missions.

The flight received its instruction from Lieutenants Garrigues, Foltz, Putnam and Dornbrook. The "Raider" navigators had this to say about their instructors and their course:

"Cadets at Selman Field can well profit by our experiences and they can rest assured that they are getting the best instruction possible. Classmates have a better than fair chance of getting into combat together and Selman Field men work excellently side by side."

Asthma Mucus Loosened First Day
For Thousands of Sufferers
Choking, gasping, wheezing, recurring attacks of Bronchial Asthma ruin your sleep and rob your blood of vitally important oxygen because you can't get air in and out of your lungs properly. But now it is no longer necessary to suffer from these terrible attacks without the benefit you may receive from a physician's prescription called Mendaco. Within a very short time after the first dose, Mendaco ingredients start circulating thru the blood, thus reaching the smallest as well as the largest Bronchial tubes where they usually quickly help liquefy, loosen and remove thick stranding mucus (phlegm), thereby promoting freer breathing and more restful sleep. Get Mendaco from your druggist today. Take it exactly as directed and see the results in your own particular case. Under our guarantee unless completely satisfied you simply return the empty package and get your money back. The guaranteed dose: One 60c, $1.25, and $2.50 at your druggist.

COLLEGE DAY IS HELD IN N. J. C.

Large Number Of Awards
Are Given For Superior
Excellence

Presentation of awards to students in recognition of outstanding achievement in various fields of activity on the campus highlighted the annual college day program at Northeast Junior College, L. S. U., in the auditorium Thursday morning, May 25.

Miss Martha Thompson, Monroe, was the recipient of the Purple Jacket Club award given annually to the most outstanding sophomore girl. It was presented by Miss Eloise Calhoun, faculty sponsor of the organization. The trophy given by the Student Council to the most outstanding boy was won by Pfc. Everett Zeagler, Monroe, who was in college until he entered military service this spring. Miss Thompson presented the Student Council, made the announcement.

Miss Marion Simmons, Monroe, was named most outstanding commerce student. She received the William Womack Memorial award established this year by Lieutenant and Mrs. Hillier Parker in memory of Mrs. Parker's brother, Lt. William Womack, a graduate of the college who lost his life as a pilot in the United States Air Corps. Mrs. Louis Turner, instructor in the commerce department, made the presentation.

To Miss Merilee Simpson, Start, went the Lillian Herron Williamson Memorial scholarship in recognition of her interest in library science. The award, which was given by Fred Williamson in memory of his wife who was assistant librarian at the local college at the time of her death, covers the cost of tuition and books. The scholarship was presented by Dean C. C. Colvert.

Pvt. Massey D. McConnell, Mangham, now stationed at the Amarillo army airfield, Amarillo, Tex., was named winner of the athletic scholarship award given each year by Dean Colvert to the athlete having the highest scholastic record for two years. Announcement of this recognition was made by the dean.

Trophies given by Delta Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic society, were presented by Miss Margie Martin, president of the local chapter, to Miss Carolyn Watts and John Mullin, both West Monroe speech majors, for valuable work in the field of dramatics.

Winning the Phi Theta Kappa award for maintaining the highest scholastic average for a two-year period was Miss Reida Farmer, West Monroe, who scored a 3.90 record. Miss Bennie Hughes, president of Gamma Mamma chapter of the organization.

Miss Farmer also captured the prize given by the E. H. S. Club to its most outstanding member. The presentation was made by Miss Martha Kirk.

Two gifts were made for achievement in journalism. The Mary Clay award for the best feature story appearing in the current year's issues of the Pow Wow, college newspaper, was won by Pvt. Bob Hughes, Chicago, former cadet in the army specialized training program on the local campus and now a medical student at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif. Honorable mention was given Miss Jean Spencer, Monroe, The Annie Lee West Stahl prize for the best editorial was won by Miss Barbara Schuster, Shreveport, editor of the paper. Receiving honorable mention was Miss Margie Martin. Both awards were presented by Wilson Ewing, publisher of the Monroe News-Star and Morning World.

Miss Dorothy Ruth Wright, West Monroe, received the trophy for best sportsmanship in women's intramurals, a new award established by Miss Ada Beas Hart, director of physical education for women, who made the presentation.

Prizes to winners of Time magazine and National Discussion contests were presented by W. R. Hammond, head of the department of social sciences. John Cecil Currie, Albert Cloud, Monroe, and Pat Tucker, Winnboro, received awards for scoring highest in faculty, sophomore and freshman groups respectively in the current affairs contest sponsored by Time.

Winners in the local phase of the National Discussion contest were Miss Martha Kirk, Rayville, and Albert Cloud.

A. L. DeLoach, president of the West Monroe Kiwanis Club, made awards to the winner of the short story contest sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Monroe and the winner of the essay contest sponsored by the Kiwanis Clubs of Monroe and West Monroe. Mrs. Nelle C. Allen, Monroe, received

School Vacation To Result
In Widening Activities

During the past week, with the close of Monroe schools drawing near, there has been an intensification of programming at the Community Center, 1700 South Grand street. The aim of the recreation department of the city is to offer, during the summer months, so many activities in so many fields, as to interest every boy and girl in the city of Monroe.

It has always been the policy of the Community Center to cater primarily to the recreational needs of the young people of the city, and the present summer programming is a broadening of this policy.

Every school in the city has been contacted with the idea of organizing individual clubs among the sixth and seventh grade girls. The enthusiasm with which the girls of Monroe have accepted the plan has resulted in an organization schedule with limitless possibilities. Under the girls' club program, members of the staff of the recreation department will assist in organizing the clubs. It is planned that each school will have as many clubs as there are interest groups among its sixth and seventh grade girls.

In addition, plans are being made by the recreation department which will offer to boys and girls of all ages summer activities of dramatics, music, handicraft, dancing, hobbies and sports.

The Dramatic Club will be an overall organization. The Children's Theater, composed of boys and girls from six to ten years of age will be its youngest group. Older groups will include all ages, from ten-year-olds to college students who will be in Monroe during the summer months.

The Dramatic Club's summer activities will include a series of skits, a series of one-act plays, and finally full length plays, pageants, and a circus. More experienced members will have the chance of directing, and other members will be cast for the various parts, or assigned to stage-craft, make-up, costuming, or property management activities, depending upon their individual interests. It is not necessary that any member have previous experience, nor is there any charge for participation in this splendid dramatic training. Mrs. Hupman does, however, urge that every prospective member be on hand Tuesday evening when the first casting will take place, and that all boys and girls who wish to take part in the Children's Theater register before next Saturday, June 3.

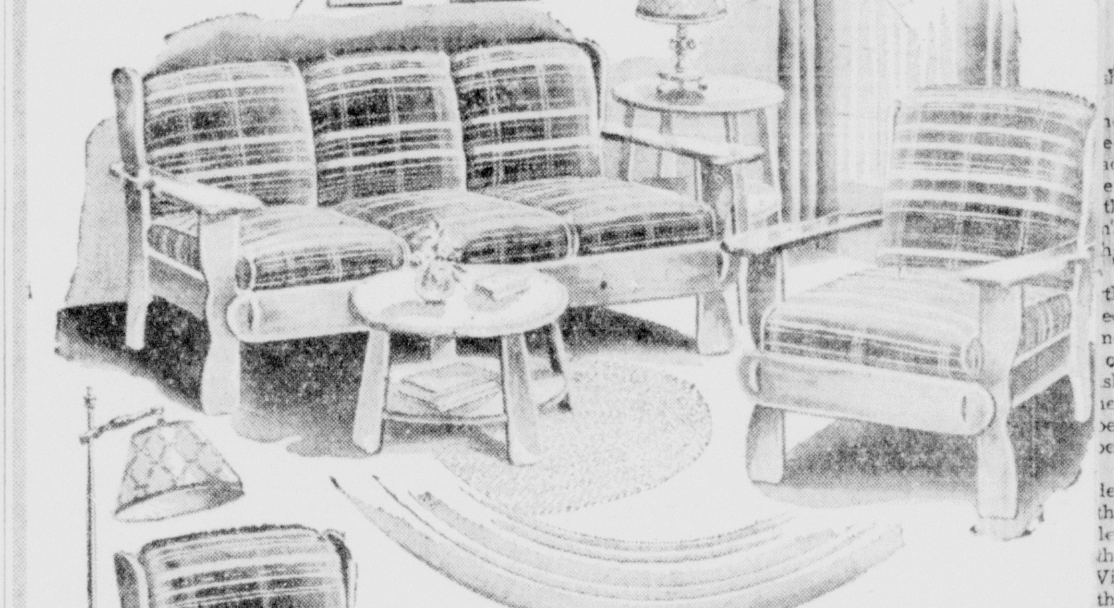

Leaders for music, handicraft, are being sought at the present time. The musical program will include not only group singing, but also the formation and direction of at least one Community Center band. The handicraft program is to include carpentry, as well as other forms of handwork.

Hobby clubs will be open to both boys and girls, and may be held together or separately. There is already a girl's airplane club being organized, with plans being made for a boy's group. The Recreation Center will of course be happy to receive the suggestions of any parent or child.

The principal sports activity will be the soft ball leagues, registration for which may not be made after June 3. The games will start on Monday, June 5, at which time the soft ball field adjacent to the center will be ready for use.
